

Sweet Little Fishy

I am a walking aquarium belly full of water and something little swims around deep inside

Belly hard with liquid and a certain heartbeat air comes to the surface like a frog under the leaves

This heartbeat of you changes me from living for me mostly to living for you baby my sweet.....

Little fishy swim around swim around (repeat)

I'm not the woman I used to be this body is changing me I'm more amphibious than mammalian you see more animal, more bare

As smooth as rock as wet as lake Gripping the edge of an earthquake Along a rip in the world set to make me stronger than I am

Oh baby turn me into your mother

oh baby turn me into your mother

Sweet little fishy swim around swim around (repeat)
